How did Linden Hall affect your life after graduation?

Linden Hall affected my life by preparing me for college and helping me choose my career. Many of my teachers kept in touch with me while I was at college providing me with continued support even after graduation. Many of the experiences I had in my classes at Linden Hall and in extracurricular activities are what made me decide to become a teacher.

What piece of advice would you share with girls at Linden Hall today?

I want to tell girls at Linden Hall today to take advantage of every opportunity they can while at Linden Hall. Do not be afraid to talk to new students, reach out to your teachers, or to try a new class. Linden Hall is preparing you for college and you will be amazed how much these experiences will benefit you in the future. I also want the girls at Linden Hall today to really spend time getting to know the girls in their class and other students and to stay in touch with the school. The girls they are with today will become some of the greatest friendships they will have and they will become the "sisters" in our special Linden Hall family

What did you love most about Linden Hall?

I loved the sense of family and dedication at Linden Hall. The small class sizes and the caring and dedicated faculty and staff were exactly what I needed to become the person I am today. As many of my former teachers will tell you, I entered Linden Hall as a shy and young 6th grader, but from my first day on campus I could feel the support from everyone. I graduated from Linden Hall as a confident senior ready to move on to college. I loved that I had finally found a school where everyone supported each other and where I felt like I was home.

Describe your experience at Linden Hall. What is your favorite memory?

Simply put, Linden Hall was the best 7 years of my life! I loved my experience at Linden Hall. Getting to experience so many different cultures and being challenged every day, and enjoying all of Linden Hall's unique traditions are what kept me coming back each year. I have so many memories from Linden Hall that it is hard to pick a favorite. One of my favorites, however, would have to be the many hours that I spent up in the tech booth for the school plays and other events.
