"Your experience at this school is entirely what you make of it."

How did Linden Hall affect your life after graduation?

The faculty at LH really encouraged me to speak up and take charge more often. I started sixth grade as a quiet introvert, and while I'm still very independent, I'm so much more confident in my abilities as an artist and a leader!

What piece of advice would you share with girls at Linden Hall today?

Your experience at this school is entirely what you make of it. That's the most wonderful thing about it is it's an opportunity to grow into the person you want to be. There are so many activities going on to be passionate about; find one that speaks to you and run with it. If it doesn't exist, you can be the one to bring it to life! Don't let doubts or fear hold you back; this is your safe place to figure out who you are and what you want to do.

What did you love most about Linden Hall?

I love how much history lives on at LH. I treasure every story someone told me about Mary Dixon, or the letters in the Chapel, or the cistern in the library. We're incredibly lucky to be part of a place with so much past and so much future. I always love bragging about my school being older than the United States of America!

Describe your experience at Linden Hall. What is your favorite memory?

This place will always have my heart, more than anywhere else in the world. It really shaped who I am today- it drew me to my passion for theatrical design. (Shout out to Mr. Foreman for that!) My favorite memory is every rehearsal I spent sitting in the tech booth, figuring out how to run the light and sound boards, surrounded by the racks of costumes. That was where I gradually realized where I fit in, and the thought still makes me a little teary-eyed, in the best way possible.

How many years did you attend Linden Hall?

Seven! (part of the lifer club!)

What clubs or sports were you a member of?

Let's see, I was on the volleyball and riding teams, student council, and tech crew (of course). I've probably forgotten some that I didn't do for all seven years...

What Blue and White team were you on?

Blue!

What college did you attend and, where?

I attended Emerson College in Boston, MA.

What is your occupation?

I'm currently the Coordinator of Corporate Character Costume Inventory at Walt Disney Resorts. I ensure Mickey and his pals have all their snazzy outfits at every Disney park around the world!

JUST FOR FUN

What is your favorite book?

It's been a tie between Neil Gaiman's Neverwhere and Erin Morgenstern's The Night Circus for a few years now. Highly recommend both if you enjoy elaborate and gorgeous storytelling!

What is your favorite movie or TV show?

Favorites are so hard to pick, but I'm really into The Crown on Netflix right now. Everything about it is stunning, with a nice dose of history to boot.

Name three things you couldn't live without.

My Bernina sewing machine, my two kitties Sulu and Galen, and liquid eyeliner.
